

Credentialed Veterinary Technicians: Your Partner in the Health of Your Pet

Credentialed Veterinary Technicians are partners in the health of your pet. Highly educated and skilled, they provide care to pets and their owners, from the beginning of pet's lives to the end. Importantly, they serve as:

Educators:

They teach pet owners how to keep pets healthy by preventing diseases and accidents. They help pets and pet owners by explaining the value of early disease detection and management.

Disease Detectives:

They put together the pieces of medical history and observed pet behaviors, giving pets a voice in what ails them.

Patient Care Coordinators:

They assess and monitor the current needs of their patients while anticipating future needs.

Advocates for the health and well-being of your pet:

They will always have your pet's best interests in mind.

Highly educated and skilled professionals who choose to work with animals, and their owners, every day.

Credentialed Veterinary Technicians are truly heroes, be sure and thank them!

Credentialed Veterinary Technicians are here to help when your pet gets sick or injured, and so is The ASPCA® Pet Health Insurance Program.*
